CW Middle School World Geography

Grade level. Course. Theme. Strand. Expectation

Theme 1: Tools of Social Science Inquiry- In order to investigate and draw conclusions about the past, students need to think critically about information as well as evaluate multiple sources of evidence. The following steps of inquiry outline ways of thinking that apply to the study of social studies rather than content to be learned. As part of this process, instruction should apply disciplinary tools as well as use these processes to answer questions and solve problems. • Ask questions (Why? Why there? Why then? What's the impact of? What's the real story of? What's the significance of?) • Develop compelling questions and research geography. • Anticipate and utilize the most useful sources to address their questions. • Develop and test claims and counter-claims to address their questions. • Take informed action based on their learning

Theme 2: World Geography and Cultures- The study of world geography and cultures focuses on human and physical systems of the world's regions. The emphasis is on the interaction between/among these systems as they impact the establishment and evolution of societies. Students will utilize spatial reasoning and examine organization of people, places, and environments to understand that human and physical systems vary from place to place, change over time, and give meaning to places. In a time of globalization, students will understand that geography influences culture, migration of people, diffusion of ideas, and the development of new technologies. A geographically informed person understands that there are multiple valid types of regions that have unique characteristics. When studying the world by "regions" several schema for organization exist including physical regions (e.g., continents, climate, topography, and environment), human/functional regions (e.g., transportation, communication, and economics), and perceptual regions (e.g., history, culture, and government). One possible organization of regions includes US/Canada, Latin America, Europe/Russia, Middle East/North Africa, Sub-Saharan Africa, South Asia, East Asia, and Oceania. No matter how they are defined, the skills and concepts listed below should be applied to the study of regions.

Code	Current MLS Expectations	Code	Previous MLS
Disciplinary Tools 6-8.GEO.1.CC.A	A. Create and use historical maps and timelines in order to represent continuity and change within and among regions over time.	5.A.5 5.A.6 5.A.7 5.A.8	Use geographic research sources to acquire information and answer questions Use geographic research sources to acquire and process information to answer questions and solve problems Use geographic research sources to process and report information to solve problems Use and evaluate geographic research sources to process and report information to solve problems and make predictions
Disciplinary Tools 6-8.GEO.1.CC.B	B. Evaluate historical solutions to problems within and among world regions in order to draw conclusions about current and future decisions.	5.J.5 5.J.6 5.J.7 5..J.8	Use geography to interpret the past, explain the present and plan for the future (e.g., physical processes that continue to reshape the earth) Use geography to interpret the past, explain the present and plan for the future Use geography to interpret the past, explain the present and plan for the future Use geography to interpret the past, explain the present and plan for the future
Disciplinary Tools 6-8.GEO.1.CC.C	C. With assistance, develop a research plan, identify appropriate resources for investigating social studies topics and create a research product which applies an aspect of geography to a contemporary issue.
Disciplinary Tools 6-8.GEO.1.CC.D	D. Using an inquiry lens, develop compelling geographic questions, determine helpful resources and consider multiple points of views represented in the resources.
Disciplinary Tools 6-8.GEO.1.CC.E	E. Analyze the causes and consequences of a current geographic issue as well as the challenges and opportunities faced by those trying to address the problem.
